Procedure to make a warranty claim: Report any issues or warranty claims to the Glenview Doors Dealer where the product was originally purchased. Your report must be made within 30 days of the issue appearing and before any attempt to repair. Claims must be made during the term of the warranty. Claims made after the term of the warranty will not be accepted.

Replacement: If your warranty claim is accepted and Glenview Doors chooses to replace a component or part, the replacement provided will be the same specifications as the product originally purchased. If the original product is no longer available, a similar quality product will be selected. Replacement parts are warranted for the remainder of the term of the original warranty.

Refund: If the claim is accepted and Glenview Doors chooses to refund the product part or component, the refund amount will be based on the original purchase price.

Deferral: Glenview Doors may elect to defer resolution on claims related to warp, twist, bow, or cup exceeding ¼" for up to 12 months from the date of claim to allow for acclimation.

Failure to report: Glenview Doors reserves the right to deny a claim if an issue is not reported within 30 days and the delay results in further deterioration, or exacerbation of a problem, or causes a more complex or costly resolution.

The depth of the overhang must equal at least one-half the distance from the bottom of the door to the bottom of the overhang. The span (width) of the overhang must extend at least three feet on either side of the door unit.
